

Offaly Heritage 8, 2015

Editor's Note *Ciarán Reilly

Notes on Contributors

The DeRenzys of Tinnycross, Lisa Shortall, pp 2-7.

'Good fences make good neighbours': Fabricated crime and religious tension in pre-Famine King's County, Robert Hartigan, pp 8-18.

The design and management of a midlands town: The development of Edenderry, 1809-1845 and 2000-2010, Caoimhe Merrick, pp 18-42.

An introduction to sources for the study of landed estates in King's County (Offaly), Ciarán Reilly,

Manliffe or Manly: a King's County Quaker family at odds with its religion, Michael Goodbody

The Tullamore properties of the Manly family: a sidelight on the malting, brewing and distilling industries in a midlands town, Michael Byrne

The murder of William Ross Manifold, 1852, Roisin Lambe

A disaffected class: King's County farm labourers in the early 1880s, Padraig G. Lane

Haunted memories: Rex Ingram, Francis Hitchcock and World War On, Ruth Barton

The scene in King's County in 1914, Michael Byrne

Patrick Kavanagh and his Tullamore connection: A lost genealogy, Una Agnew

The 1641 Depositions in King's County, Brendan Ryan

George Kennedy: King's County Attorney and 'a rare man of a different generation', David Caldicott

Grave connection: Killafeen Cemetery and the Fetherstonhaughs, Carthage Minnock

Ballycumber Railway Station, 1862-1963, Paschal Sweeney

Book reviews .....
228
New publications and articles on Offaly History in 2013-14 .....	232
The Tullamore D.E.W. Distillery .....	243
Report from Offaly Heritage Officer .....	245
2013 Offaly History Annual Report .....	251
2014 Offaly History Annual Report .....	261
Offaly History Constitution .....	273
Offaly History Membership List, 2013-2014 .....	279
Offaly History Notice .....	281